

Invention and Creative Process Writing Activities

1. Research the current use of cancer goggles and what changes have been made to them since the invention.
2. Interview and/or research inventors. Describe the time involved in their invention and the setbacks and successes that they encountered and how they continued to create even with setbacks.
3. Research what other ideas are used to reduce the amount of Styrofoam in landfills.
4. Explain why trial and error are good things when you are creating an invention.
5. Research what the inventors of one of these products was trying to invent originally: playdough, fireworks, slinky, silly putty, or the microwave.
6. Study and decide what qualities or characteristics make good inventors.
7. Design a timeline of the inventions listed in the video 17. Write a short paragraph about each of the inventions.
8. Design your own timeline of inventions that you consider important. Write a short paragraph to explain why you think these inventions are important.