

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

Direct Recruiters believes that Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) is the best practice in modern talent acquisition and building a dynamic workforce. This means being open to hiring and doing business with others regardless of race, gender, gender identity, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, social class, physical ability or attributes, religious values, political beliefs, experiences and more.

DRI'S COMMITMENT

Many factors drive various organizations' commitment to Diversity and Inclusion. The biggest factor is dynamic change in workforce demographics. We believe that the strongest workforce is made up of people from all different backgrounds. Globalization, fierce competition for talent, and the changing needs of companies, industries and consumers all play major roles in embracing diversity and inclusion in all aspects of our business and client businesses.
