

Pediatric Emergency Medicine Leadership Opportunity in El Paso, Texas

Strengthen your career in clinical leadership through our opportunity for a full-time Pediatric Emergency Medicine Medical Director to oversee our emergency-trained physician team at El Paso Children's Hospital in El Paso, Texas. Lead and guide a team providing high-quality, child-focused patient care. Candidates must be board-certified or board-eligible in pediatric emergency medicine.

Position Highlights:

- Resident program, 24-hour inpatient pediatric hospitalist program
- Paid malpractice and tail coverage
- Flexible administrative and clinical scheduling
- Comprehensive benefits package
- Access to professional development tools, educational resources and CME through TeamHealth Institute
- Excellent stipend and hourly rate
- Access to leadership development programs such as Leadership Education and Development (LEAD), Coach Development Academy (CDA), Women in Leadership (WIL) and National Medical Leadership Conference (NMLC)
- Excellent work-life balance
- Affiliate partnership with Texas Tech University
- Dedicated pediatric ED with 25,000 annual visits
- 24-hour physician coverage
- EMR is Cerner

El Paso Children's Hospital

El Paso Children's Hospital is a 122-bed teaching hospital associated with Texas Tech University with a full spectrum of pediatric specialties, including pediatric imaging, pediatric inpatient and outpatient infusion, pediatric intensive care unit, pediatric operating rooms with pediatric critical care transport team, a Level III neonatal intensive care with over 30 subspecialties.

El Paso, Texas, recognized as one of the top safest cities in America.

El Paso lies in far west Texas. Loaded with history and historic places, El Paso stands on the Rio Grande, across the United States/Mexico border from Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico. The Franklin Mountains extend into El Paso from the north and nearly divide the city into west side and east side sections. El Paso is home to the 24,000-acre Franklin Mountains State Park, the largest urban park in the United States. At an elevation of 3,800 feet above sea level, with the highest peak in the city being North Franklin Mountain at 7,192 feet above sea level, the possibilities for outdoor recreation are endless. El Paso is a thriving metropolitan city and is home to the University of Texas at El Paso, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center and Fort Bliss, one of the largest military complexes of the United States.

For more than 40 years, our stability and national resources help our clinicians deliver the best possible patient care. Learn more about how we support our leaders here. Learn about TeamHealth's easily accessible resources for aspiring and current leaders here.

Thinking about stepping into a clinical leadership role?

If you are thinking about becoming a clinical leader read this TeamHealth blog post by Brian Hess, MD, MBA, TeamHealth Regional Medical Director, West Group, for advice on how to make the decision to step into clinical leadership.

Why lead with TeamHealth?

- Access to a powerful national network of thousands of clinicians with rigorous risk management and best practices
- Mentorship, face-to-face education, online training and professional development programs
- Support services, networks of communication and educational resources
- Our medical directors show an industry-leading 94% retention rate at TeamHealth with average tenure over a decade

TEAMHealth®

Join our team

teamhealth.com/join or call 888.861.4093

Practice made perfect