

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Edhi boasts that his entire $10 million-plus annual budget comes from ordinary Pakistanis, many who press cash into his hands on the street. How has crowdfunding become an important tool for aid organizations?
2. What are some reasons Edhi gives for the rise of the Taliban, and how is he trying to combat that?
3. How has the Edhi Foundation gained and maintained the trust of the community in a society rife with corruption?