

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. Should faith have any role in treating mental illness?
2. Why is there a perceived conflict between faith and medicine when it comes to mental health treatment?
3. Mental health is a taboo subject for many Indians, and access to proper care is rarely available. What impact do you think that has on Indian society?
4. How has the treatment and perception of mental health changed in the United States in recent decades? What has improved and what has not, or worse?