

General questions

1. What problems can you identify in this story? Are solutions presented?
2. In what way might this story be relevant in your community?

Further exploration

1. How does the National Domestic Workers Union help domestic workers? Are there any other informal industries that could benefit from such organizing?
2. Describe the market-based enterprise to improve the plight of domestic workers. Are there any ethical issues in running a for profit business in this regard?
3. Why do you think so many domestic workers are badly mistreated? Beyond the economic drivers, what societal and cultural norms need to change to end or improve conditions for domestic workers?